

Turret Chucker

The 300-target capacity Turret Chucker by R. L. Torresdal Co. affords convenience as well as safety. Range owners and volume shooters will appreciate the simple design, trouble-free electronics, and robust construction. The remote release, by Long Range Systems, is standard equipment. A hard-wired release is available upon request. Side tilt as well as vertical adjustment, from flat to 45 degrees, are easily done with the supplied wrench. Side-to-side tilt and a battery box are built into the cart. This machine operates on a 12-volt Deep Cycle Marine battery (not included). Turrets are available for standard and midi (90mm) targets. Orders are typically shipped by common carrier within a couple days of our receiving the order.
